Fred Russell is building a handsome four-room cottage on his Fort Valley ranch. It will also have a sleeping porch. W. B. Goble, the contractor, says it will be one of the handsomest ranch houses in this section.

Jim Rupe came in from Maine on Tuesday to rest up and get his nerves soothed after his close call a day or so before, when lightning struck his pants leg. Jim says it would have hit him farther up, only he saw it coming and ran.

Fred Metz, who recently graduated from business college in Phoenix and then brought home a charming young bride, with whom he is living at the home of her grandparents, Judge and Mrs. F. W. Perkins, is working in the accounting department at Babbitts.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cameron, accompanied by their son, George, and his bride, formerly Miss Mary Charlebois, left Tuesday morning for Los Angeles, where the young people will spend part of the honeymoon period, and Bert and Mrs. Bert will get all the good possible out of Bert's vacation.

J. Q. Thomas has been taking charge of Professor Burkhardt's classes in mental measurements and pedagogical tests, at the Normal school summer session, during the absence of the latter. Dr. McMullen considers himself fortunate in securing Mr. Thomas as a substitute, as he took work of this kind at Stanford university under Cubberley and Terman.

Wm. R. McClurken, Ernest Coulter and Major McCord of Phoenix, an old buddy of Mac's, accompanied by three young ladies, rode part way and climbed the rest of the way to the top of the Peaks on Sunday. Bill tried foot-coasting on some of the frozen snow up there and after shooting downward for half a mile, landed up against some boulders that left him without breath and with numerous scratches and bruises.

M. F. Riley, formerly of Oatman, and more recently of Katherine, who came here a few days ago to visit Dr. George Bedinger, while out making a professional call with the latter, was suddenly stricken with apoplexy and died yesterday at Weatherford. Dr. and Mrs. Bedinger got a nurse for him and yesterday Mr. Riley's partner in the mercantile business at Katherine, Henry Keyes, arrived to see the sick man, getting here just before he died.

Ernest Lennon had a very interesting trip to Chin Lee, Ganado, St. Michaels, Fort Defiance and Crystal. A good wool clip, and excellent crops were reported in the places visited. It was found that more merino wool is being used in the manufacture of Navajo rugs than formerly, as the government has introduced merino sheep. Although this quality of wool is preferable for some purposes, the Indian weavers find it hard to handle in the making of their yarn. For this reason it may be necessary in the future to supply them with the material manufactured in the east.
